

Lyrics

People Say

Save me I can't be saved I'm a president son, I don't need no soul All the soldiers say it'll be alright we may make it through the war if we make it through the night all the people they sing What a lovely day yeah we won the war May have lost a million men but we got a million more All the people they say Share with me all of your pain and I won't share your love I need all your love All the soldiers say it'll be alright we may make it through the war if we make it through the night all the people they sing What a lovely day yeah we won the war May have lost a million men but we got a million more All the people they say You can't save me I can't be saved I don't need no love I'm a president son All the soldiers say it'll be alright we may make it through the war if we make it through the night all the people they sing What a lovely day yeah we won the war May have lost a million men but we got a million more All the people they sing All the people they sing It'll be alright All the people they sing

Work All Day

If you work all day you keep the Rhythm Through the Night If you work all night you keep the Rhythm Through the day If you sell that soul you'll be burning up right If you aint got no soul thats fine alright All I ever known is true Pick it up pack it up put it in a bag Stack it up like cinnamon we'll get it real fast Until there's nothing left for you Pick it up pack it up put it in a bag Stack it up like cinnamon we'll get it real fast Until there's nothing left of you Keep the Rhythm Through the Night If you need a little money keep it working alright It'll help that soul a little help may do some right You don't need that soul well thats fine alright I work all day I don't have no one I don't have no one but all I've ever known is true Pick it up pack it up put it in a bag Stack it up like cinnamon we'll get it real fast Until there's nothing left for you Pick it up pack it up put it in a bag Stack it up like cinnamon we'll get it real fast Until there's nothing left of you Until there's nothing left of you

Lovers in Love

Crawl from the fire into the pan What we don't need hell will demand higher higherhigher Well I'm not in need therefore don't demand And what hell can sell you I can't defend higher higherhigherhigher and if another lover takes that love away from you be careful with your mind and what you're bound to do Lovers in Love lovers loving love just like these lovers are loving in love and if another lover takes that love away from you be careful with your mind and what you're bound to do Lovers in Love if we make it I'll come back lovers loving love just like these lovers are loving in love Lovers in Love higher higherhigher

The Sun

If you look real high you just might find sitting in the stars glistening glistening waiting for the band to come just waiting for that man to come oh i wonder slip on down from the sun to climb down to earth and down to things like time because we are all we are all just lovers born of earth and light like all the others if you're talking to the moon the moon might sing about the universe shouting out i don't need i don't need time i breathe in time where are we now where are we now slip on down from the sun to climb down to earth and down to things like time because we are all we are all just lovers born of earth and light like all the others if you're looking for the river just find the mouth it's grinding like gnashing teeth foaming out foaming out mixing up that hell to come just mixing up my hell to come and it's fixing up to swallow me whole fixing up to swallow me whole fixing up to swallow my soul fixing up to swallow me whole slip on down from the sun to climb down to earth and down to things like time because we are all we are all just lovers born of earth and light like all the others Where are we now oh I wonder

do you ever listen to the sounds that your hands make did you know that we could make sounds I don't know what the palace knows but I don't run with sheep the shepherd can't herd me My feet ever slow with the age that takes me I'll slip out to the mountains where nobody knows me i will make my home here i will make my home here i will make my home here Grow a field of plenty to hold me tight and keep us warm from the cold that burns me My feet ever slow with the age that takes me I'll slip out to the mountains where nobody knows me and i will make my home here i will make my home here i will make my home here do you ever listen for the sound that your head makes did you know that know that it could we could make sounds I don't know what the palace knows but I don't run with sheep the shepherd can't herd me My feet ever slow with the age that takes me I'll slip out to the mountains where nobody knows me I will make my home here i will make my home here i will make my home here I know that I was fine before

The Woods

When I lived in the woods when I lived in the woods Everything was alright rivers rolling west through the people just working it right Never cared where we are never needed to know never needed to know just where we are Everything was in sight everything they were the people living the light As I breath in time To be where I was and if I need baby give me all your love If we need To find the time We'll never see All your love If you find yourself in need, If we gotta go then bring along some company and if you find yourself alone, if we got it all then we got just what we need Why, Why, Why As I breath

in time To be where I was and if I need baby give me all your love If we need To find the time We'll never see All your love When I lived in the woods When I lived in the woods When I lived in the woods everything was alright everything everybody was alright Well ya gotta get out gotta make some money Baby gotta grow Baby gotta get bigger All the people will lift it up all the people all the people will help you out Yeah, I needed time To get back where I was Because it's still your love No one can buy your love As I breath in time I see what I was It was always love All your love All your love Why, Why, Why

Guns and Dogs

We took a trip down in 87 We were looking for a place were we don't fear heaven Yeah we got some guns, got some dogs but just like them dogs, well those guns just get bigger Looking to the town to show us what what they got we'll take it to the cabin and we'll show ya what we got we got space to do what you please still you'll never ever come back If I never stand at another corner trying hard to be a father Lets be love If i never need again I'll find that sleep again We took that trip out in 87' yeah found that place where we don't fear heaven ooooooh once you crawl in you'll never come back again If I never stand at another corner trying hard to be a father Lets be love If i never need again I'll find that sleep again Though I never pray God reigns today Though I never pray God reigns today Though I never pray God reigns today ooooooh once you crawl in you'll never come back again And if you catch us coming up about around the bend And if we step a little higher will we find it then There's gotta be something roaming up about around the bend If I never stand at another corner trying hard to be a father Lets be love If i never need again I'll find that sleep again Though I never pray God reigns today Though I never pray God reigns today Though I never pray God reigns today Though I never pray God reigns today

Do you

Do you understand the people that we are Do you believe right from the start Do you see that everybody needs Do you feel when you're burning in that hell Yeah we can make it here Did you find your fear did you find your fear did you find your fear did you find your fear Do you fear the marching of the lamb Do you believe there is loyalty in man Do you see when others turn away Do you hear it swimming in your head Yeah we can make it here did you find your fear did you find your fear did you find your fear did you find your fear he came down from the moon and rained down on all of us rained down on all of us and everyone was saved he fell into the sea just to swim around just to feel the clouds on the way down and everyone was saved everyone was saved everyone was saved did you find your fear did you find your fear did you find your fear did you find your fear

Everyone is Golden

Diamonds shine like stars beneath the ground little rivers run in rings around the town and every one's a soldier just marching towards the ocean Everyone is Golden and nobody will love them yeah they all took trains into the town and stuck another needle in the ground if we never get another sound then we know we've packed up all we had to move from '93 Everyone is Golden and Nobody will love them And they can't lift you up We gathered around the school hear just what they found but they told us they had tried, The little boy had died We gathered around to hear just what they'd done they shine like stars under the ground like seals filed rings around the sound and everyones a soldier just marching towards the ocean Everyone is Golden and Nobody will love them Nobody will love you

Let You Down

its a shame that we need everything still everything I see I need just go please don't go I want all that I see just go please don't go because ill only let you down ill always let you down watch the world spinning around and know that its alright just go please don't go because ill only let you down I'll always let you down and watch the world

Mornings

Mornings go best with the sunrise The sunrise I used to see but will never see now even if I was waiting we would just build it all up and look all around until we find The people found the mountain climbed up from that hole in the ground through the cracks in the sky and threatened to fall still I don't believe, no i don't believe The future was born with the sunrise The sunrise that builds into days and even more days And as it rolls burning burning up like the trails of the comets pulled tails As the sun it rose up from the belly of sea found his bedding of clouds where it hung for years Still I don't believe While colors rained and poured from the cotton bound pools and the drips, the drips stained us all painted us all Still I don't believe The people found the mountain climbed up from that hole in the ground through the cracks in the sky and threatened to fall still I don't believe, no i don't believe.
